

BUCK BRANNAMAN

Horsemanship clinic

July 9th through 12th 2010

Columbia County Fairgrounds in Dayton Washington

Greetings all,

We once again look forward to seeing old friends and meeting new ones. We are told by many that the Dayton clinic is one of their favorites on Buck's schedule. In 2011 Buck will be cutting back on his travel schedule.

This Year we are offering the classes listed below. When riding in one class you are strongly encouraged to audit the other class at no extra cost. If in the future you would like to receive this and other clinic correspondence through E-mail, please respond to Yodel@CoyoteMountainRanch.com.

Horsemanship 1: starts 9am

For the green horse and rider already comfortable in the snaffle bit along with aged horses needing continued work. This is the first stage in progressing into the bridle with all basic movements introduced. All levels of riders – no matter what discipline – Will Benefit. The class features strictly dry work – no cattle. All maneuvers stress the vaquero style of riding and are appropriate for horses from first level snaffle to experienced bridle horses. Hackamore horses welcome. Limited to 25 riders plus sponsors. $600 for four three hour lessons. $100 deposit required at this time

Horsemanship 2: starts after lunch

The next phase in the development of the versatile bridle horse. Horsemanship 2 introduces the rider to working the horse in the hackamore and beyond. Horsemanship 1 is a prerequisite for enrolling in Horsemanship 2 unless otherwise approved by Buck. The class involves working cattle and ranch roping so that all aspects in preparing the bridle-horse-in-the-making are addressed. This class is limited to 15 riders plus sponsors. $600 plus $30 cattle fee ($630 total for class). $100 minimum deposit required at this time.

Stall fee: $12 per night per horse. Due to popular demand stall cleaning will again be available at a cost of $5 per night per stall (payable on site). All stalls Must Be Stripped before leaving.

Limited on site camping is available first going to participants. Limited hookups at $10 per day. Prepayment will guarantee you a spot.

All BALANCES and release forms must be received no later than MAY 31st and sent to Robert Phinney no later than May 31st. All checks payable to: "BUCK BRANNAMAN CLINIC" We greatly appreciate your help with this.

Spectator fee: $25 per person per day (no advance signup necessary) payable on site
